Yes

No

Do you want the proposed variation to have effect in relation to the introduction of the late night levy?

Yes

No

You do not have to pay a fee if the only purpose of the variation for which you are applying is to avoid becoming liable to the late night levy.

If your proposed variation would mean that 5,000 or more people are expected to attend the premises at any one time, state the number expected to attend

Describe Briefly The Nature Of The Proposed Variation

Describe the premises. For example the type of premises, its general situation and layout and any other information which could be relevant to the licensing objectives. Where your application includes off-supplies of alcohol and you intend to provide a place for consumption of these off-supplies, you must include a description of where the place will be and its proximity to the premises.

The current layout/plan includes a retail space for off sales, we are proposing for this area now to be for mixed use, so to add 10-15 stools around the perimeter of the stables for customers to sit to eat and drink on the premises. A plan supporting this change of furniture arrangement is attached.

Dear Sirs

Stable Ales. The Courtyard, Melbourne Hall, Melbourne

I refer to the license application submitted by Mr Roger Lowe of Stable Ales, The Courtyard, Melbourne Hall, Melbourne to which I wish to object. I would be grateful if you will take my comments into account during your deliberations.

Mr Lowe has operated Stable Ales for some while but consistently displays a contempt for the existing license conditions imposed upon him. Further he is dismissive of noise nuisance which emanates from his premise in Melbourne which is proving detrimental to the local population. The noise nuisance is the subject of a formal complaint to the Leader of the Council copied to the Licensing Committee.

Mr Lowe is asked within his current license conditions to display a notice in a prominent position that contains a telephone number whereby residents who experience disruption may complain. There is no such notice displayed which is a contravention of his current license conditions.

Mr Lowe cannot carry out any activity pertaining to the licensed premise before 08:00hrs. Mr Lowe has bottle collections from the premises at 06:00hrs, a contravention of his current license conditions.

Mr Lowe now seeks to increase the seating element within his premise which is an escalation from his current activity. Mr Lowe has clearly demonstrated his inability to comply with his current license and is not a fit person to operate a premise of this type.

I would request that the committee shows restraint in granting further license which seeks to extend and expand the activities of Stable Ales, as to allow expansion at this time would seem to condone the actions of the applicant and to dismiss the disruption currently being created in this area of Melbourne.

Yours faithfully

Dear Sirs

Objection to the Amendment to License Application made on behalf of Stable Ales by Mr R Lowe.

I write to register my objection to the amendment to license application submitted by Mr R Lowe on behalf of Stable Ales, part of the craft unit complex within the grounds of Melbourne Hall. The application to increase the number of patrons inside and out will significantly affect the noise nuisance already suffered by neighbouring properties.

The licensing committee should be wary of the amended application as Mr Lowe does not comply with the conditions of the original license granted in June of 2021, as there is no phone number displayed in a prominent location for members of the public to register their complaints. There have been three occasions in the last week when I would have had recourse to use this number to complain. During the live acts on Wednesday 13th April and Saturday 16th April there was no area of my house where I could avoid the music, and the glass collection at 6am on a Bank Holiday woke all of us who live adjacent to Stable Ales.

I should be obliged if the licensing committee will take my concerns into consideration during their deliberations.

Yours faithfully

I am concerned that the applicant wishes to increase seating for his business, especially externally. This would suggest he wishes to increase footfall.

To be granted this license variation the applicant should be mandated to follow the existing license conditions - especially conditions related to the Noise Management Strategy v1.1.

As neighbours we are regularly subjected to noise from the live amplified outdoor entertainment. According to the applicants own Noise Management Strategy this was supposed to occur only once per month on an ad-hoc basis. The type of music is supposed to be in keeping with the setting. Please see section 4 of the Noise Management Strategy v1.1 that was agreed as a license restriction by SDDC Licensing.

We are currently subjected to live music at the weekly food court events and again at weekends. I have contacted the applicant on several occasions to complain. However, I am unsure if I am using the correct formal number as no phone number has been posted near the business. This was also a license condition and does not appear to be followed.

If possible please suggest alterations to the application/licence that would resolve the problem mentioned above, again paying attention to the licensing objectives

Simple. Just follow (to the letter) the existing license conditions that were documented and laid down by the SDDC Licensing Committee.

Once the Licensing Section has received this form you will receive a written acknowledgement and you may be contacted to discuss the issue prior to any referral to a sub-committee hearing.

LICENSING OBJECTIVES OVERALL

How is the public to know if the declarations in this variation [and indeed in the original application which this proposes to amend] would be being carried out as required, including those in the proposed management plans?

The starting point for that has to be having access to each management plan so that we'll know what Mr Lowe has agreed to do in regard to any of the four licensing objectives, which are meant to keep the public from harm stemming from the activities of or related to the business.

To that end we ask that if this variance is granted that Mr Lowe be required thence to make available a copy of each management plan for Stable Ales — doing so automatically as each is filed with the licensing department. We can then have a basis for knowing if the portions of that plan that affect us have been carried out. Whether or not these are made available to the wider public, they should be made easily available to those of us who will be affected by them.

Doing this would present no hardship or undue burden for Mr Lowe as it would take virtually no additional time beyond sending it as required to the licensing department — sending it also to an agreed online access point set up for the purpose that doesn't require sign-up to a social media site.

Public safety

'Any movement of stock shall take place prior to 23:00 hours to keep disturbance to a minimum.' A minimum starting hour should also be designated, so that working neighbours aren't awakened early on weekends, and so that any ill or infirm neighbours aren't disturbed during early hours of the weekday either.

These changes are meant to bring additional people to Stable Ales. Thus there is a concern that the means by which they arrive and leave [particularly as they would be leaving after drinking] could exacerbate the existing risks where three limited-sight roads converge at the single approach to Stable Ales. That area is perpetually stressed, and this variance proposes yet more on an ongoing basis, day after week after month all through the year.

As the numbers there continue creeping up, as being proposed in this variance, so do the risks to public safety at that same rate. If this variance were to go forward, the licensing department would be permitting this increased risk.

Prevention of public nuisance

Under the terms of its original license Stable Ales has been obligated to keep a noise-complaint telephone number posted since it first opened — but it hasn't done so. Here again Mr Lowe promises to do so. But obviously there is no precedent for believing that he will do so unless the licensing department sends someone to the premises to see that it gets done, so we ask that that be done.

That number should be posted where it's readily visible and available not just to people who are within the Stable Ales premises, but to those outside of the Melbourne Hall grounds who feel adversely affected by the noise and wish to report it to the person who should be keeping it under control.

The application further says, 'A record will be kept by management of calls in the incident log.' Will that record be made available to the public? If not, we ask the licensing department to tell us how anyone can know if their nuisance-complaint call actually has been recorded there and is being kept as part of the ongoing records of the business. If this variance goes forward, a stipulation must be made for Mr Lowe to provide a reasonable, readily accessible means for the official documentation he's required to keep for this purpose to be available particularly to anyone who has called to complain, so that they can be assured that this record is indeed being kept.

The protection of children from harm

Again, how is the public to know if what the applicant promises to do in this application actually is being done?

This says, 'Children shall be supervised at all times by a responsible adult when they are on the licensed premises.' Although Stable Ales plans to entice children to the premises [with parents and others who may take them, who will drink]*, this statement seems primarily designed to absolve Stable Ales and its owner of all responsibility for those children rather than setting any standards or expectations for the situation.

*[Documented in The prevention of public nuisance' which includes this plan: ... 'through the promotion of the facility being used by families' ...]

What is the upper age of 'children' for this purpose?

Does Stable Ales propose to provide a 'responsible adult' for supervision of all children there? Or will any entering children be required to report to a designated place along with a 'responsible adult' to a fixed location where a member of staff can confirm that a 'responsible adult' has brought and accepted responsibility for the accompanying child/children?

Further details may be beyond the scope of this application [what action will be taken if children are found to be unsupervised or not appropriately supervised, for example], but certainly the above basics should be set out.

Any time — but especially on busy evenings, or when entertainment is on — it may not always be easy to connect a given child with his/her 'responsible adult', or even to be certain that every child who's there is with a 'responsible adult'. Yet Stable Ales says here that they will be so supervised at all times. Nothing here assures that that can be done.

If Stable Ales is not to exclude children, then it needs to stipulate more than just a loose evasion clause to cover any untoward situations that may arise in their regard. Not to do so is expressly to expose children to the potential for harm, as they're being invited and brought to a business whose primary business is the sale and consumption of alcohol.
